JITNEY REGULATIONS STATE SCHOOLS HAVE PINKERTON GIRL IS

WILL BE MANY AND EXACTING

MOST PATRIOTIC EXERCISES

IN CUSTODY OF INSPECTOR

The jitney service company, running passenger auto cars for hire over the streets of the city, has issued orders to put out cars and it is claimed that if the ordinances of the city remain long as now, the jitney will have brisk competition.

In the meantime, City Attorney Valentine Gideon is giving a new ordinance, planned to regulate the service, consideration, and he states that when he gathers together the best thought and regulation offered by a number of ordinances from cities now grappling with the passenger traffic automobile, he will write an ordinance for Ogden.

The Oakland, Cal., ordinance is said to appeal strongly to the members of the board of commissioners, and it is probable that much of that ordinance will be written into the Ogden law. Among other things, it is said, the Oakland ordinance provides for an occupational tax of $100 a year for each machine and requires an indemnity bond of $10,000 for each auto to protect the people in case of damage suits for personal injuries.

The city officers say that there will be many other regulations, such as requiring well defined routes for the passenger machines, the establishment of stations and terminals, proper designation of the cars, giving starting points and destinations, how, when and where passengers may be taken on the cars and left off, sounding of horns at street intersections, and other places, speed of the cars, observation of rights-of-way, respecting other vehicles on the streets, aid in street maintenance, and a strict regulation against establishing curb business offices for the transaction of business. It is said that the parties operating passenger cars will not be permitted to check up their business with the drivers of the cars on the curb, but that they will be required to have a regular central office for that purpose.

Violated Traffic Ordinance—Anton Bodrukus was arrested yesterday afternoon at Washington avenue and twenty-eighth street, by Officer William Reast. He was charged with the charge of violating the city traffic ordinance by driving a horse on the wrong side of the street.

Arrested—Jose Vesvora and Stephen Tello, Mexicans, were arrested last night by Officers Burk and Shumaker, on charges of petit larceny. They are alleged to have stolen some copper wire from the Oregon Short Line yards.

GOVERNOR SPRY AND LEGISLATORS ON A SPECIAL TRAIN

Governor William Spry, with other state officials, his staff and the members of the state legislature, were scheduled to pass through Ogden at 3:30 this afternoon en route to Logan, on a special O. S. L. train of five cars. The trip to Logan is for the purpose of attending the annual military ball at the Utah Agricultural college, which is to be given tonight. A party of sixty cadets from the Salt Lake high schools passed through the city this morning in a special coach. They were also bound for Logan to attend the ball.

OLD FAITHFUL INN AT THE EXPOSITION

General Agent W. H. Chevers of the Union Pacific received a telegram today from General Traffic Manager Gerrit Fort to the effect that "Old Faithful Inn," the center of attraction in the four-acre reproduction of "Yellowstone Park" at the San Francisco exposition was opened last Saturday in a brilliant manner. Nearly 2500 diners, Mr. Fort stated, were taken care of at the opening and the feature event was a dinner in the banquet room.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL IS FULL OF PRAISE FOR OGDEN

Thornton Lewis, general western freight agent for the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, and manager of the Kanawha Dispatch routes, arrived in Ogden this morning in his private car "C. & O. No. 551," from Salt Lake City and passed the day here. He is en route to the San Francisco exposition and is accompanied by his youngest son and Mrs. Lewis, Miss Martha Sherwood and William Hawley. Mr. Hawley is a nephew of the late Edwin B. Hawley, manager of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad.

The party reached Ogden about 9 a. m., but owing to the inclement weather were compelled to confine their visit to the city to a luncheon at the Weber club, in company with J. E. Gosling, agent of the Kanawha Dispatch at Salt Lake City, and several prominent members of the Weber club.

Arrangements had been made by Messrs. Sullivan and Poss of the Federal Land & Mortgage company to take the party for an automobile ride around the city and to Federal Heights, the new residence section at the southeast part of the city, but the rain caused this plan to be abandoned.

Mr. Lewis, however, examined with much interest a plan of the heights and when told that the country club that is now being laid out in the new addition was the only one on the Lincoln highway, his interest, according to his statements, was vastly increased with regard to the growing attractiveness of Ogden as a stopping place for tourists.

Mr. Lewis visits this section of the country annually and is well acquainted with business conditions and the scenic attractions in and around Ogden. The present trip is Mrs. Lewis' first visit to the west and Mr. Lewis stated that he deeply regretted the inclemency of the weather as he had arranged for a stopover at Ogden particularly for the purpose of giving his wife and the other members of the party a good view of the city and its surrounding scenic beauties.

"You have a splendid city here," he said, "and some of the finest business men I have ever met, men who do not watch the clock, but are up and doing all the time. I know them and it is men of that type that build great cities. With those you have here, a great future for your city is assured."

He also stated that it was a great pleasure to visit a city laid out in Ogden, with streets wide enough to "move around in with comfort" and to meet people full of life and overflowing with a spirit of hospitality.

Mr. Hawley was equally impressed with the city and its surroundings and stated that he was coming out this way again in May to see more of it and also to pass several weeks on the ranch of one of his western friends in Wyoming.

In speaking of general business conditions, Mr. Lewis was very optimistic, stating that since the recent readjustment of freight rates in the east that business had picked up to a most appreciable extent and that the outlook was for a rapidly continued increase for eastern roads as the spring season progresses. "A similar increase," he said, "for the western roads would follow an readjustment of freight rates in the west, similar as that allowed by the interstate commerce commission in the east."

Mr. Lewis was visited in his private car while here by Asst. Sup't. O. Brophy of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific; Sup't. R. H. Pierce of the Ogden Depot & Railway Co. and other local railroad officials.

The party departed for Los Angeles on S. P. train No. 9.

Interesting Washington programs were given today at the two state schools. At the State Industrial this afternoon a long program of music, recitations, drills and essays was given in a joint assembly of girls and boys and in the forenoon the Deaf and Blind students furnished an elaborate entertainment along the same line. At both schools, the programs were given by the students. The day will close at the Deaf and Blind school with a game of basketball, athletic exercises and a dancing party.

The program at the Industrial school was as follows:

Chorus by the girls.

Essay, Washington, Harry Handon.

Recitation, by C. Billingsley.

Song, patriotic, by six small boys.

Reading, by Mabel Herbon.

Recitation, by Claude Simpkins.

Solo, by William Coen.

Essay, Washington, Robert Fulton.

Reading, Washington and Lincoln.

Donald Reiley.

Duet, Aline White and Mollie Lindley.

Chorus, by large boys.

Recitation, by Murray Perry.

Recitation, by George Christensen.

Essay, Washington's Early Life, Otis Johnson.

Reading, Washington's Inaugural Address, Fred Solis.

Song, by small boys.

Reading, by Emory Larson.

Recitation, by Roy Morgan.

Essay, by Mollie Lindley.

Song, Tipperary, by the audience.

The program at the Deaf and Blind school was given at 10 o'clock this morning and it was appreciated because it was given solely by those who are deaf and blind. The flag drills, the story of the flag and "America," sung by the school, were especially impressive. Following was the program:

Star Spangled Banner and Salute, by the students.

Story of the Flag, by Lucile Crow.

Song, by three blind girls.

Essay, Washington, Nora Kotter.

Drill, by eight deaf girls.

Recitation, by Gladys Barnham.

Flag exercises, by six deaf boys.

Recitation, by Alvin Ray, deaf.

Song, America, by the school.

BOYS COME BACK IN A SOMEWHAT BRUISED CONDITION

The Ogden high school basketball team returned from Cache valley yesterday with one defeat and one victory added to its 1915 season record. Several members of the team came back somewhat badly crippled, Moyes having a broken nose, Bune a broken toe and Fuller an injured ankle. Bune and Moyes received their injuries in the game with the South Cache high school at Hyrum on Friday night, while Fuller sprained his ankle about 10 minutes before the game and was unable to play. The loss of this contest was attributed by the Ogden boys to the loss of Fuller in the lineup. Allison played his position and though he put up a good game, his lack of experience proved a disadvantage. In the same contest, Ruby was knocked out for five minutes, but went back and finished the game.

The crippled condition of the team after Friday night's contest was such that Coach Romney was in favor of bringing the boys home and forfeiting the contest scheduled with the North Cache team at Richmond, Saturday night. The players were determined to play the game, "on crutches if necessary," according to Wallace Ruby, the star right forward, and the coach took them to Logan for a "boiling out" at the Agricultural college. This treatment gave them new strength and they won the contest Saturday night by the score of 18 to 17. The lineup for the two games was as follows:

South Cache. O. H. S.

Bird. LF. Moyes, Faich.

Allen. RF. Ruby.

I. Maughn. C. Allison, Fuller.

I. Maughn. RG. Beck.

Reed. LG. Bune.

Referee—Packard.

North Cache. O. H. S.

Trip. LF. Moyes, Faich.

Jones. RF. Ruby.

Dawson. C. Fuller.

Spackman. RG. Beck.

I. Jones. LG. Bune.

Referee—Christensen.

Mrs. Mary Ann Beckett were held yesterday afternoon in the Sixth ward meeting house. Bishop O. M. Sanderson presided and the speakers were Patriarch George W. Larkin, Mrs. Mary A. Jost, Bishop E. A. Olsen and Bishop Sanderson. Special music was furnished by the ward choir with William Pickett as soloist. The selections were "O, My Father," "What Voice Salutes the Startled Ear," "I'll Be What You Want Me To Be," and "The Resurrection Day." Eight grandsons of the deceased acted as pallbearers and interment was in the city cemetery.

TAYLOR—Robert Blaine, the infant son of George B. and Elizabeth C. Taylor, died at the family residence in Farr West yesterday morning of bronchitis. He was born September 17, 1914, and survived by his parents and six brothers and sisters. The funeral will be held tomorrow at the residence and the interment will be made in the Ogden City cemetery.
